QuestaWeb, Inc.'s Christopher Springer Selected as a Supply & Demand Chain Executive "Pro to Know"

Director of Operations honored for his commitment to help supply chain customers automate business processes and become more efficient

Clark, N.J. — Feb. 23, 2018 — QuestaWeb, Inc. (www.questaweb.com), a premier provider of web-based, integrated Global Trade Management (GTM) solutions, congratulates Director of Operations Christopher Springer for being selected as a 2018 Provider Pro to Know by Supply & Demand Chain Executive (SDCE) magazine. The award, reserved for individuals from software firms, service providers, consultancies or academia, honors supply chain executives who are leading initiatives to help prepare their companies' supply chains for the significant challenges of today's business climate.

As QuestaWeb's Director of Operations, Springer possess over 20 years of supply chain experience, focusing on global trade compliance. His background and extensive experience implementing transitions, supporting and maintaining international trade compliance systems gives him the unique ability to address complex issues and give insight on how to make existing supply chain processes more efficient. Springer works closely with U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) officials, as well as clients, to assure that QuestaWeb software is as efficient and as transparent as possible.

In response to receiving this award, Christopher Springer said, "Being able to communicate accurate data across the supply chain is uppermost. From an importer's perspective, it's about assuring brokers and freight forwarders have correct information about their commodities so they can provide optimal information to local or foreign governments. For exporters, it's about getting denied party screening, licensing and other matters right the first time. Automation, especially for QuestaWeb customers, gives companies the ability to manage their global trade with minimal resources. Our solutions make it possible to intervene only when exceptions arise, allowing staff to focus on those broader corporate strategies."

"Supply & Demand Chain Executive congratulates the 2018 Supply & Demand Chain Executive Pros to Know recipients. The Pros to Know is a listing of exceptional corporate executives at manufacturing and non-manufacturing enterprises who are leading initiatives to help prepare their companies' supply chains for the significant challenges in the year ahead," says John Yuva, editor of Supply & Demand Chain Executive. "We commend this year's recipients for their achievements in supply chain and for paving the way for the next generation of exceptional supply chain leaders. This year's recipients embody the commitment to transformative supply chain tools and processes, earning these individuals a rightful place in this year's Pros to Know listing."

Over 300 nominations were submitted for this year's Pro to Know award. A full list of the 2018 winners is available at www.SDCExec.com, and in the March 2018 issue of the magazine.
